STATEMENT OF POLICY

The Sartin Methodology is based in Psychotherapy and its goals are NOT directed toward fostering the illusions or delusions of gamblers seeking magic solutions for picking winners. We are primarily a healing arts organization dedicated to providing an alternative solution to mainstream psychiatry's prescription of total abstinence for non-winning handicappers. Our slogan is - and always has been -

"THE CURE FOR LOSING IS WINNING"

An Issue Dedicated to DECISION

As per the cover heading and our promise from Follow Up #63, this issue is dedicated to helping you reach DECISIONS in both your selection and final wagers.

To make the content of this issue (and those to come) more pertinent, I've been going to the Perris or San Bernardino, CA off-track wagering centers regularly. Shane goes with me one day a week. I face the same kind of decisions all of you must make! I can also observe Shane's wagering decision-making processes. This means that everything I've written in this issue is based on an intensified empathy with every possible problem you might face in making selection and wagering decisions.

Hence, my efforts to offer solutions are not based on some theoretical ideal but on real situations.

Throughout this issue I'll be making references to our off-site wagering experiences. Virtually everything you'll read in this Follow Up is based on actual day to day handicapping-wagering experiences from the months of May, June and July. I took special care to minimize or totally eliminate any decisions based on whatever "handicapping" skills I think I may possess. All races were done by the identical procedures I have prescribed for you.

I'll offer you a means of narrowing a race to four, or for the timid, no more than five contenders. The procedure is fast and so amazingly simple that many will eschew it and go on floundering with more complicated but less potent measures. I have detailed this technique before quite often. Sadly, few chose to employ it.

In attending and wagering regularly, our first goal is to win all the races paying double digit win mutuels at Hollywood Park and Golden Gate or whatever track was running in northern California. This is something I hope all of you will also strive for. Thus far, in 96 races, we've missed five double digit winners. Two were dirt sprinters going into Turf routes. One was a stretchout that showed no signs of being able to go longer. Another was a router going short without any indicative internal fractions. The other loser is still running.

After 21 years of working with those aspiring to win at the races, I've learned categorically that success does not come merely from having predictive readouts (we've always had those), but from acting decisively on those readouts at the moment of truth: betting time.

"The dogma of the past is NOT adequate for the present..." Abe Lincoln.

Old Abe wasn't talking about horse racing but his words certainly apply. Much of the literature of handicapping and most of its maxims are not as applicable today as they once were. I've enumerated the reasons many times on these pages. Yet, many clients still cling to obsolete notions that are primary causes for their failure to reach their desired goals. This stubborn resistance to current reality poses THE BIG QUESTION - How many of you truly want to win ?

This is something only you can answer. It is by no means a ridiculous question. All the horseplayers I've ever met give lip service to the desire to win but that's not enough. Each month I get ample evidence of clients who seemingly fail deliberately for various reasons that have been addressed a number of times in our manuals and the Follow Up.

I've yet to see a problem that cannot be self-corrected - IF the person truly WANTS to make corrections. This evaluation is not just mine. Jim "The Hat" and I speak on the phone several times a week and he constantly calls my attention to the self-destructive foibles of the many clients he talks to.

In my various off-track wagering forays I often meet up with clients. When my readouts produce a double digit winner ranked first or second I show them to the client expecting that he/she also bet that winner. All too often they did not and offered as a reason some antiquated guideline they heard - or misheard - at a past Sartin Seminar or some other alleged expert source. I stress "past" Seminar because all such guidelines were based on subjective opinion derived from the "at that time" wagering patterns of the speakers, some of whom are quite content with $6.40 winners because they "spot play" and make $300 bets. Unless you do likewise and win the majority of these "plays," you will suffer from following past lessons about contender/paceline selection. You'll be eliminating the majority of double-digit winners.

The Follow-Up and our forthcoming audio-video sessions, (complete with workbook), are your only sources of current information for winning with this Methodology in the climate of today's racing reality.

The main reason for a lack of success is precisely the same as it was 20 years ago. It was articulated most recently in a sad letter from a longtime client. He graciously thanked Shane and me for "helping" him but ended his note with the words: "In the final analysis, I just don't get it."

In truth, Shane and I did not help him. We attempted to and failed. This is a distinction many Teaching Members and clients who avail themselves of help fail to understand. We're not helping anyone unless they win. I've received many letters praising various teachers because they've been "helping" them for years. That's not help. That's a cruel kind of dependency that inflates the teacher's ego but does little or nothing for the student.

Failure to "GET" something does not indicate lack of brain power. I've yet to find any cause other than psychological for those who fail to 'get it'. In truth there is very little to get INTO your head. But, there is a lot to get OUT of your head.

I wish I could have had a Win Therapy session with that letter writer before he quit. I fervently hope that any client with a similar problem will come to me for their own catharsis. My first question to anyone saying "I just don't GET it," is always "WHAT don't you get?"

Most non-winners attribute their lack of success to an inability to comprehend and apply a long list of esoteric "handicapping" factors that most author/experts say are absolutely essential for success. They are not! I've repeated that until I'm blue in the face.

Following this column I'll show you the only double digit winners from Hollywood Park and Golden Gate, June 4. I'll also show the entire day, June 28, with Racing Form Past Performance charts, my own penciled notations on the Form and my readouts and wagering instructions. I'll detail the exact procedures used to isolate and bet the winners.

Absolutely no skillful handicapping was involved because I avoid all popular definitions of handicapping like the plague. I've read all the books by, and listened to countless lectures from, "experts" ad nauseam. I never learned anything that really helped me win. I've also gone to the races with most of those experts and discovered they too had apparently learned very little about today's racing.

The procedure used to "GET" the only double digit winners on these example days and all the others, is simple but it's not easy. To me "easy" can be defined as not fully perusing past performance charts or following the precise directions for optimal use of your handicapping program. This is a curse that unfortunately applies most especially to those who download. But others are also guilty. Here are a few of the things clients do and don't do that are really suicidal:

(1) They question the validity of selecting contenders and pacelines from the best of the last three COMPARABLE DRF Speed Ratings and Daily Variant.

(2) They fail to pre-qualify horses with my formula for getting a NET SR that includes the DV (instructions & chart in this issue).

(3) They slavishly follow ancient elimination "rules" that rule out the majority of potential double digit winners.

(4) They use Track Record times, or even alleged pars or normative times instead of 3 Year Best.

(5) They use OLD 3 year best times from Follow Up 60-61. Current 3 Year Best Times for featured tracks are published DAILY in the section of the Form with Past Performances for that track.

(6) They fail to print out their downloaded past performance charts and refuse to use their return or right arrow key to go across each line to get proper adjustments. They just enter the speed rating shown, failing to note when a horse comes from "OTHER" track and enter THAT track's 3 year best for the distance.

(7) AODDS users have access to printouts of past performance charts condensed to the last three races only. Granted, on those rare occasions when going 4 back is essential to win, the race will be lost. However, In just using the condensed charts, you'll probably lose less often than when you fail to look at ANY past performance printouts.

(8) They think that tracks on the same circuit don't require the OTHER track adjustment. I made this mistake once. I dedicated much of Follow Up #59 admitting my egregious error and correcting it. I found out how incorrect I was by losing some races. Losing should awaken everyone to the possibility of making one of the above, or other, errors. Unfortunately that's not always the case.

(9) They take pleasure in just winning races with no consideration for profit, failing to realize that virtually anyone can get winners that pay from $4.40 to $6.80.

(10) The above stems from the most blatant error of all: Betting the TOP TWO NUMERICAL choices when one or both are UNDER-lays. They seem reluctant to bet on the highest rated double digit Bottom Line horse that projects as an OVER-lay on Betting Line. They refuse to follow examples from past Follow Ups, and those in this issue where we hold out for double digit win mutuels and eschew low paying situations. No matter how many times I warn about this, I still get reports where clients bet only the top 2 NUMERICAL rankings and complain of losing because the winner that projected with double digit odds was only ranked THIRD on vital readouts and Bottom Line.

I hope the material that follows will serve to correct some of the folly in the above list.

In past years the Follow Up frequently catered to the weaknesses of subscribers. More recently we've changed our editorial policy in an attempt to appeal to your potential strengths. Now, it is time for you to decide where your strength lies. Do you aspire to be a handicapper or a WINNER. It's pretty much an either or proposition. I've known very few persons who could combine both.

Tom Brohamer, Glen Connolly, Vic Palermo and a few others have shown a degree of mastery over the art and science of what is called classical handicapping. They did so over a period of years through trial and error, exploring the potential viability of a myriad of factors. By the same token, Jim "The Hat" Bradshaw focuses on a single factor: his unique perception of the Match-Up.

Shane and I are proponents of what might be called ANTI-HANDICAPPING. Many of you seem to want to be classical handicappers. This is great if in doing so you're winning races and money. If not, perhaps you should consider Anti-Handicapping. No one is born a successful pari-mutuel fund investor. That achievement comes from self-discovery. If you've discovered, as Shane and I, that you're not destined to succeed by trying to be a well-rounded handicapper, you might want to join us and win by accepting the advice of legendary winner, Buddy Alvarado:

"What I like to see are the books and programs by fellows such as Andrew Beyer and William Quirin, the experts. And don't get me wrong, these guys are experts. These people serve a purpose. Whether they're teaching the correct thing, I can't say. But for my purposes, speaking purely for myself, what they teach me is very important. And that is, whatever they say, do the exact opposite. That's a very valuable piece of information as far as I'm concerned. You need that. You cannot develop a pattern of success unless you know who the losers are. Once you know who the losers are, once you discern properly the pattern they are using, if you do everything but what they do, you will be successful. This is basically what I've done in handicapping."

Buddy Alvarado, certified winner,
as quoted by Barry Gifford in, A Day at the Races

That is a quote from Barry Gifford's 1988 book, A Day At The Races. I like it because it reflects what I've been saying since 1975. Unlike my peers who have made their reputation by claiming to know WHAT DOES WORK, I succeed by knowing what does NOT work. I learned it the hard way, by losing money. Then I began to do the opposite, computerized it, and here we are. Sure beats losing.

The chief problem of so many who fail to reach their goal is that they're trying to absorb and apply all the techniques and rules offered by numerous author/experts over the last half century. They won't accept the fact that at least one half of this material is completely obsolete. Another 35% is artfully presented but highly prejudicial B.S. Ten percent is achievable through application of viable computer formula and proper use of the DRF speed rating and variant. The remaining 5% can be absorbed through personal observation and a modicum of IQ. It is most important that the entire 100% be contained within the frame of a positive attitude and self-esteem.

A recent CBS 60 Minutes telecast received more mail and monetary contributions than any other in the series' history. It's Theme:

"IT'S NOT YOUR SKILL THAT IS KEEPING YOU FROM SUCCEEDING, IT'S YOUR ATTITUDE!"

It wasn't aimed at handicappers, but it could have been. It documented the work of a group that is helping put unemployed persons into the work force through a tough, often brutal, course in "Attitude Adjustment." A follow-up program detailed the progress of persons who demonstrated a "bad" attitude in the first stanza but who subsequently shaped up and received multiple job offers. Good television journalism. I hope all misanthropes with a losing attitude saw it.

This issue is dedicated to DECISION. The FIRST decision that must be made is to abandon those handicapping myths that stem from antiquated mainstream maxims. If you refuse to accept the truths from the lessons seen in all the races published in this issue and respond with, "yea but," you'll probably continue questioning handicapping reality for all time. You may have developed a belief system that believes only in NON-believing. If so, there is little I can do to help you.

At the April Beaumont Workshop and in Follow Up #63 I devoted time and pages demonstrating how to get a Single NET Speed Rating-Daily Variant figure from the "Best of Last Three Comparable Races." Client Dennis Mikkelson observed that even after my laborious explanations, some clients still remained confused. So he devised the following chart that can be read both vertically and horizontally.

Proper utilization of this chart is the FIRST STEP you should take in the process of winning the races in this issue (see chart next page).

NOW, on to the handicapping problems faced on June 4th and June 28, 1997. Then I'll chronicle the vital steps toward solutions and reaching final, profitable DECISIONS.

Making NET SR's for Shippers

This is only for making your penciled NET SR'S on your Form or download PP's before going to your computer.

We'll use EMD in Seattle as an example; 6 and 8.5 furlongs distances. The 3 year best shows that at 6f GG is 5 5ths faster than EMD. So when you see a 78 SR for a GG 6 f. horse going to EMD, note it as an 83 SR. At 8.5 there is a difference of 4. Add 4 to the GG's SR.

This will keep you from dismissing horses from faster tracks with lower SR's. AFTER you enter them, Pace Launcher will then give them an appropriate MINUS adjustment and eliminate them if they don't belong.

EQUALIZED LINES

#	NAME	L	DIST	S	1stC	2ndC	3rdC	FnlC	BL1	BL2	BLS	BLF	SR	TV

3	GG	1	6.0	D	22.1	45.2	58.0	111.1	3.00	2.00	1.00	0.00	83	17

#	NAME	L	DIST	S	1stC	2ndC	3rdC	FnlC	BL1	BL2	BLS	BLF	SR	TV
1	GG	0	8.5	D	23.0	46.0	111.0	145.0	3.00	2.00	1.00	0.00	78	17
2	EMD	0	8.5	D	23.0	46.0	111.0	145.0	3.00	2.00	1.00	0.00	82	17
3	GG	0	8.5	D	23.0	46.0	111.0	145.0	3.00	2.00	1.00	0.00	82	17

This is for making your Racing Form NET SR notations. After entering qualifiers. let the program make Track & Speed adjustments. IF all these shippers to EMD are of equal class and ability, the computer adjustments are accurate. An EMD client said that Portland Meadows' horses are winning 50% of their races at EMD with only 1/2 the auto adjust. Hastings' contenders were doing quite well with the Auto Adjust. GG shippers were not faring well. So, cutting their minus adjustment in half was sufficient. Accepting her analysis, these adjustments have been working well.

NAME	L	DIST	S	AVE DTV	TV	TV ADJ	T&S	MAN	NET ATM
EMD	0	8.5	D	17	17				0.0
GG	0	8.5	D	17	17		-4	2.0	-2.0
PM	0	8.5	D	17	17		14	-7.0	7.0
HAST	0	8.5	D	17	17		4	-2.0	2.0

Dad and I have had success at EMD making NO Manual Adjusts. But we don't handicap it every day like the client.

NOTE: Del Mar's turf times are slower than dirt. This is a rare phenomenon. Handicap accordingly.

Don't Always Trust DRF Speed Ratings

...and that applies to all SR'S taken from all information services using the DRF format: BRIS, Handicapping Highway, etc.

Speed Ratings published by The Daily Racing Form and the download companies they service are not always accurate. Blind acceptance of these ratings can cost you dearly.

That is one of the primary purposes for our suggestion to enter 0 as SR when there is the slightest doubt. As long as the 3 Year Best Times you've entered are correct, confirming actual ratings by using 0 (zero) when asked for SR, will produce the actual SR for the distance if it's from the SAME track. When using the OTHER (track) option, consult your current listings for 3 Year Best Times for that track. DO NOT depend on the old numbers published in Follow Up #60 unless you have NO WAY of determining CURRENT Best Times. NEVER USE TRACK RECORD TIMES.

This information is especially important to those downloading from BRIS or any other service fed by the DRF. Our experience is that you will subject yourselves to at least one blatant loss in 20 races unless you confirm suspicious SR'S.

As for what should be suspicious? A little study on your part correlating final times with actual SR's will answer that question. Here is the Racing Form's own description of how SR's are compiled:

HOW SPEED RATING & VARIANT ARE COMPUTED

The Speed Rating is a comparison of a horse's final time with the best time at the distance at that track in the last three years. The best time is given a rating of 100. One point is deducted for each fifth of a second by which a horse fails to equal that time. Thus, in a race where the winner equals the best time (a Speed Rating of 100), another horse who is beaten 12 lengths gets a Speed Rating of 88 (100 minus 12).

Daily Racing Form's Track Variant takes into consideration all races run on a particular day under the same conditions of distance and track surface. The Speed Ratings of all winners in each type of race are added together and an average is computed. This average is deducted from the par of 100 and the difference is the Track Variant. (Example: if the average Speed Rating of winners sprinting on the main track is 86, the Track Variant is 14 (par of 100 minus 86). The lower the track variant, the faster the track, or the better the overall quality of the competition.

They're based on THREE YEAR BEST TIMES, not records times.

The 5th race at HOL, June 12 was a Turf Race. For two entrants the DRF published DIRT SR's. Failing to catch this error might well have cost the Win! Casual downloading of published SR would have ranked a horse named BABA inordinately HIGH and eliminated the actual winner. The same mistake appeared on the second line back for another horse. Fortunately, that horse had a CORRECT last line at 10f. It was the line we used and the horse placed.

An astute Chicago client reports a number of SR errors at SPT and AP. He keeps accurate 3 year best times and when he has the slightest doubt about the DRF's published ratings he hits 0 and follows the instructions at the bottom of the screen.

Those who casually download pacelines without running their RETURN key or right arrow across and checking SR's DV'S and noting OTHER when a contender comes from a different track, will miss a lot of payoffs. In that 10f Hollywood race mentioned above, they would completely forsake the place horse that keyed a good paying Exacta and Trifecta.

NOTE: After entering all 3 Year Best Times for a track, press 9 for EXIT. DO NOT hit ESC. If you do, your 3 Year Best Times will NOT be saved.

PACE LAUNCHER 4 & 5Q

A STATISTICAL SURVEY

96 RACES - MID MAY THROUGH JULY 5, 1997

WARNING: These Pace Launcher statistics apply only when following my specific instructions for narrowing a race to at most 5 contenders using the BEST of the last 3 COMPARABLE DRF Speed Ratings + DV, ATM adjusted and no other subjective procedures. The only decision required is a determination of what is COMPARABLE. I will make this definition clear when going through the exercise races.

For those of you who say that your track is different, let me add that we also applied the results of this survey to WOODBINE, BELMONT, GG, STOCKTON, PLEASANTON, ARLINGTON, and EMERALD DOWNS with similar results. The procedure and results are universal!

STATISTIC #1

X MARKS THE SPOT

Here's something you might want to analyze at the tracks where you wager: The viability of Factor X rankings for Win and Place. From a relatively small sampling at Hollywood Park (5 weeks) the readout has been very strong. This tells me that at Hollywood Park winners and place horses exhibit one or more of three Energy Patterns:

- (1) Inordinately fast 1st fractions.
- (2) Highest ranked 3rd fraction.
- (3) First or 3rd Fraction Velocity/Energy that compensates for any deficiency in ANY single fraction.

These statistics were compiled AFTER HIDING ALL BUT THE TOP 5 SPN: (Those who refuse to hide non-contenders, take note).

High Factor X rankings often isolate Win-Place horses ranking not in the Top 3 or 4 Bottom Line or SPN Rankings. This has been a boon in detecting Long Shots and Exacta/Quinella combinations. This stat certainly gives lie to the author who said that Turn Time equated with "Ability Time."

We've had many e-mail and phone messages from throughout North America heralding the glories of FX. However, none were accompanied by actual written statistics, so we can't in good conscience make any claims beyond our own study.

Test these stats for yourself at your track(s) and let me know. But remember, these stats were made after Hiding all but the TOP 5 SPN. All figures based on "Adjusted".

I won't show the rankings for specific composite factors: EPR, LPR, CPR, TT, HID. or FACTOR ~~W~~ because they will vary according to track, distance and surface. Since most of you do not Profile, you should keep records of the viability of these individual readouts after each handicapping day. Neither do I include any of the esoteric Early-Late type readouts. The above factors by themselves are the most constant because they are less subject to the vagaries of different tracks, surfaces, distance and other variables.

An old racing truism goes, "It's not how fast a horse runs, it's HOW it runs fast." Jim "The Hat" incorporated the phrase in his best selling book, The Match Up. Years ago our programs contained a readout called TRUE SPEED. We abandoned it because it was a duplication of Total Energy. Now we've revised it as TOTAL SPEED because it is adjusted by a daily variant formula and incorporates Match Up factors that reveal both how fast a contender runs AND how it ran fast.

A long statistical analysis proves that the readout produces a "Figure" superior to the Beyer numbers:

*Top 2 Entropy figures produced higher mutuels than other readouts.

THESE FIGURES COME FROM A NEWLY FORMULATED ENTROPY WITH A SINGLE READOUT THAT COMBINES AND IMPROVES ON ALL PREVIOUS ENTROPY FIGURES.

Entropy is the CHAOS formula that measures the average of VELOCITY relative to DECELERATION. At Expo '93 James Quinn said that if I mentioned Entropy half the audience would walk out. With The top 3 Entropy rankings registering a WIN percentage of 82.3 and 85.6% PLACE, with no other handicapping considerations, I guess it was a good thing that he kept me off the Pace Symposium. Someone in the audience might have caught on and been able to go home from Expo and actually win.

Before you call up and say that you cannot match these statistics, be sure you have followed the instructions for Pace Launcher as well as those accompanying the exercise races in this issue and are using the correct current 3 year best times, viewing ATM readouts.

I can only add that in 21 years of compiling statistics for various Methodology programs, these are by far the most dramatic.

Using the "HIDE" For Profit

Failure to fully utilize the "HIDE" feature in Pace Launcher and Quad-Rater can be costly as I'll demonstrate. This is an oversight most often made by downloaders who seem to pay far less attention to the lines they use and who seldom, if ever, compare two or more lines.

In all the Example Races this issue, you'll see readouts after using the HIDE to eliminate horses SPN and/or Composite Screen ranked above 5, or in rare instances, 6.

In those cases where there was doubt about which of the last three (or four when applicable) lines were most comparable, we entered two, even three lines. We compared their rankings and used the best.

There are instances that should be obvious to anyone who aspires to be a successful handicapper, when using the VERY BEST of the last three is obviously foolish. Here is an example:

The best of the last three for this animal was 19, Jan. '97 at Santa Anita. It won a $42,000 State Bred AW. race with a NET SR of 88.5. Using that race would have put the animal up in the top 2, eliminating the winner and the $9.60 place horse that we had on top.

We used CANDEL'S LAST line with a NET SR of 83.5. Off that line it did not figure. Why not the BEST of the last 3?

The horse was rested for over a month after that January win. It then tried again at $42,000 AW and finished 10th by 12.5 lengths.

Then after about a 3 month layoff, it was DROPPED into a TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR claiming race. That's a red flag signal that the horse has gone bad. It wins at $10K, is claimed and today is up for sale at $25,000. No takers! Ordinarily I'm a little leery of the often vague theories on suspicious class drops but this case is blatant. The horse finished 3rd from last in a ten horse field.

SECOND RACE 7 FURLONGS. (128²) CLAIMING. Purse $24,000. 4-year-olds and upward. Weight, 121 lbs. Non-winners of two races since May 20, allowed 3 lbs. A race since then, 5 lbs. Claiming price $25,000; if for $22,500, allowed 2 lbs. (Maiden or races when entered for $20,000 or less not considered.)

There is no such thing in horse racing as a FIXED RULE that can be applied under all circumstances. A little judgment is required. Yet anyone who has even handicapped for a few months should be able to discern certain obvious reasons when the very best of the last 3 is not applicable.

In Publishers Desk I suggested the possibility that many of you do not truly want to win. For those who say this is ridiculous, consider the following examples that occurred in just the past 8 days:

(1) Client and Follow Up subscriber is having troubles winning at, of all places Hollywood Park. He finally makes an appointment to go over his problems with Shane and me. HOL has been our main source of racing income since May, so we had handicapped the SAME races he lost. "What am I doing wrong?" he asked. We looked at his pace line choices. He was going back from 5 to 9 races. I felt like exploding. Shane was calm and patient. He showed the gentlemen the lines WE used to win the races: Best of Last three comparable. When asked why he hadn't done likewise, he answered that "HE THOUGHT——". Such things as those way-back races were more similar to today's event and other such nonsense that sprang from his SUBJECTIVE perception. In short, he went AGAINST time proven statistical data published solely to make him a winner, lost and then asked US why his "Program" didn't get the winners, some of which he failed to even enter.

(2) TOP TWO-ITIS. This client wrote that he was only enjoying about a 6 percent profit from his handicapping. To his credit he does a good job of isolating true contenders and predictive pace lines. Yet, like so many others he has readout TUNNEL VISION that makes it impossible for him to see past the TOP 2 NUMERICAL choices. He uses Quad-Rater copied to Synergetic Match Up. Here are his readouts for race #6 at HOL, July 13.

The $57 winner is on all three Paragon readouts. The only other horse on all three is THET. MUMER only resides on two. He bet THET and GO FAL, who only appears once on PAR/ex S. As if that wasn't enough to make me want to weep, here is his Quad-Rater readout for the race:

LET'S ranks 3rd on both POR and POH and is the NUMBER ONE Long Shot Detector horse. A $57 mutuel qualifies it as a longshot.

Winning this race alone would have upped his 6% R.O.I. considerably.

Top Two-itis is a disease with germs carried by the winds of the past. Although I always said bet "your top two choices," most took that to mean the numerical top 2 on their computer readouts. I had also written in the Basic Manual and elsewhere, that readouts with rankings of 3-3-3 or 3-3-X produced a bevy of longshots. This revelation was largely ignored. No matter, betting the top 2 was profitable. Then in 1992-93 it all changed. The original Methodology virtually became public domain through a series of books that revealed both our concept and formulae. Before that time the numerical top 2 were producing average mutuels of about nine dollars.

The demise of Calumet and Spendthrift Farms, plus the death of ALYDAR, caused a sharp decline in the quality of new foals. The huge sums formerly offered at major auctions were no longer available and the Phase 1, 2 and 3 versions of the Methodology were unmercifully pirated.

These events and the assault of the electronic information age, created an atmosphere in which obvious favorites became increasingly apparent to the public. To adapt to the new era, I changed the Methodology drastically. Velocity was transformed into Energy, Deceleration Factors, never thought of before, were added and, for those clients who joined me in adapting to racing's new realities, higher mutuels were once again available.

With the advent of Quad-Rater and the Pace Launcher series, came a focus on VALUE. Some thought I was betraying my former position on the subject. Not so. I remain opposed to "Value for Value's sake." Which means just betting a contender with the highest odds. I created a BOTTOM LINE to accompany a Betting Line. I've been preaching that DOUBLE DIGIT BOTTOM LINE horses make up the vast majority of winners and to eschew single digit BL horses.

I also provided the best means of isolating contenders and picking pacelines as proven by long range statistics (not opinion), compiled by me since 1975 and more recently by SportStat, a highly credible research organization in Las Vegas. Those who have followed my directions are all profiting. That's why we have Vox Populi, not a for self-aggrandizement, but to let you know what the winners are doing.

Yet each week we hear from non-winner's who fail, or just plain refuse, to follow simple guidelines because they are the personification of Mark Twain's statement that, "It's a difference of OPINION that makes horse racing." To that I add, "Unless your OPINION earns consistent profits, it's NOT WORTH A DAMN!"

Opinion and subjective research pose the greatest dangers to your handicapping health.

ANATOMY OF A DECISION:

JUNE 4, 1997

FIRST DECISION Contenders & Pacelines

I've concluded that the reason many experts dedicate so much space and time writing and lecturing on contender and paceline selection is to celebrate their own ego. They shroud the procedure in mystery, making it seem overly complex and esoteric. Their readers and audiences are left with the feeling they've received the kind of wisdom possessed by the gods. No wonder that letter writer said he didn't "GET" it.

It just ain't that difficult.

There is one basic truth of which we should all be aware. By regarding something as being 'complex', we justify our failure to comprehend it. This gives us motivation to keep "TRYING." Another basic truth is: "Trying is Lying. To do is TRUE!"

I have been accused in the past of offering written-spoken lessons that were supremely complex. That was before every Tom, Dick and Harry decided to plagiarize my efforts making my allegedly complex lexicon public domain. It was also before I realized that very few persons were willing to make the effort to handicap with the Methodology. The majority only wanted to use it to win without having to know why. As a result I've produced programs and procedures just for winning that might fall under the heading of 'anti-handicapping'.

No matter, they work even better. I studied Chaos Physics so that you don't have to! As a result I know that even the most complex formulae can be made to appear simple and relatively easy to use.

I'll demonstrate the fact of that statement right now. Here are the only double-digit winners at both Hollywood Park and Golden Gate Fields on June 4, 1997. I submit results for all races with no first time starters; BL-BL only for the one with FTS. The races without an X mark produced low priced winners that ranked in the TOP 2 SPN and BOTTOM LINE. We bet on three of them despite the price and won. The win mutuels were paltry but the $1 pick 3 of $66.30 was Okay. Our major profit came from races 5 & 6 marked with an X.

EXERCISE... JUST FOLLOW THE DIRECTIONS AND YOU'LL..

Here are photo copies of my Racing Form for three races that paid off with double digit mutuels. I'll begin with race #5 at Hollywood Park. I merely used the DRF SR and Variant, making the appropriate NET SR adjustments as shown in Follow Up #63 and with the handy chart in this issue. To me this is the most important step, in fact the only step I take before going to the computer. It's my singular way of selecting contenders and pacelines. It takes me less than fifteen minutes to do an entire card. For those of you sweating over contender/paceline selection, I urge you to relax and follow suit. This procedure will tell you how fast each qualifying contender ran. Your computer readouts will tell you how it ran fast.

JUST DO IT CORRECTLY: Don't cheat or fudge. REMEMBER: No adjustment for DV's of 16-17 or 18. One HALF point PLUS for DV'S over 18. One HALF point minus for every point UNDER 16.

Now, let's go to the races:

5 Hollywood Park

6 Furlongs (1:074) CLAIMING. Purse $16,000. 3-year-olds. Weight, 121 lbs. Non-winners of two races since April 15, allowed 3 lbs. A race since then, 6 lbs. Claiming price $16,000; if for $14,000, allowed 2 lbs. (Maiden or races when entered for $12,500 or less not considered.)

No one should have any problem realizing which contenders and pacelines I entered into my computer, or WHY I selected them:

GOLDEN: 2 back. Best of last 3. 84 SR 15 variant. That's a half point penalty. Net SR = 83.5

NEVER CHOKE: Came from Turf Paradise. OTHER. Gets a minus 6 ATM adjust. It won a Mdn Special Weight, was #1 RAW and had FIVE straight lines where it finished no worse than 2nd. A handicapper would consider these facts and, perhaps, include the horse in an exotic wager. This lesson is for those who can not or will not handicap. So toss the horse and let it finish second.

TENOR TIME: NO competitive lines.

GOODBYE: #1 NET SR of 84. Is also the 2.10 favorite. Last line best this year. Put it in the computer, let it make necessary separations.

JAKLIN: hasn't raced in 75 days after two dismal efforts. I would personally throw it out. BUT, since this is not a handicapping lesson, I'll leave it in off its NET SR of 82 3 races back last February.

DAZZLING: This horse hasn't raced since 1996. It won a 5.5 furlong race at Dmr in July of last year. I would discard it but not everyone would even notice it last raced in '96, so I leave it in for you. NET 5.5 fur. SR = 83.5.

WORK: 3 back. SR 86, DV 11. Net SR = 83.5.

KRIS: Feeble attempts last two races. 3rd back SA before a layoff when the published SA 3 year Best was the old 107:2. Those complaining that they don't "get" it might use the horse. So, I did.

SILVER: Before you get excited and use this horse off its Internal Fractions last race, look to see how it has performed in previous sprints since winning its 6 fur. Maiden race. TWO sprint attempts in vain. Beaten a total of 23 lengths. I wouldn't call eliminating this horse a handicapping skill.

ME AND THE GIRLS: NO justifiable reason to go back to BM in February for this horse. Doing so would rank it high but it still wouldn't hurt the eventual winner. I sincerely hope that no one thinks that it takes handicapping skill to eliminate a Bay Meadows horse from a $16,000 HOL claiming race, that last raced well in February and has been dull ever since. Use it if you wish. You'll still get the winner.

Before going to my readouts I want you to please take note: I made no mention of what today's pace might be or which contender would be most likely to set or overcome it, either through a visual or computer generated ESP or any other Match Up factor that might be confusing. We have ample readouts for those interested in making those kinds of "handicapping" determinations. The problem is when attempting to make them, too many become confused, leading to "I just don't GET it."

I avoided any mention of Class; either mainstream or Methodology versions. Total Energy as Class is in the readouts and it eliminates JAKLIN entirely. I didn't try to dazzle you with real or alleged "suspicious Class drops," trainer intentions or trainer-jockey combinations. I wasn't concerned with the fact that GOLDEN lost by 8.5 lengths last out in a tandem race in which GOODBYE finished 3rd. Following mainstream rules about beaten lengths will cost you about 50% of all longshot winners. Worrying about any of these ancillary factors is what can cause hopeless IN-decision. If there was even the slightest bit of handicapping involved in this race it was in eliminating ME & THE GIRLS; and that was VERY slight.

Here are the readouts and results:

I'll let you go through the exact same procedure on the next two races, the 6th at Hollywood and the 4th at Golden Gate.

One comment first on the 6th at HOL. Look at the 70 SR for STAR, line 2 as published by the DRF. That's an error. One you would discover ONLY if you had the current 3 year Best Time for HOL and entered 0 under SR. Of course you'd have to pay some attention to what you saw in the PP'S and realize that if the 3 Year Best at 9f is 146:3 then 151:1 is not 70 but 77 - i.e 147:3 = 95. 148:3 = 90. 149:3 = 85. 150:3 is 80. Ergo, 151:1 = 77.

Little things mean a lot. In this case a $4.20 place horse that keyed a $99.20 Trifecta and a $46 Exacta. If you want to use STARS race 3 back, be my guest. Both give it a #1 ranking.

IN THIS RACE WE ONLY BET TO WIN

Despite the success of my simplified procedure for isolating contenders and paelines, I expect to get a lot of protestations that will include a wealth of "Yea Buts" and "So and So said at a seminar that...", "Everyone knows that you gotta..." "But I always heard that..." "But all the other teachers say that "Nothing's that easy" and, "I wouldn't have bet that horse with your money."

I bet all three with mine. Shane with his. If you find reasons to question my application of this simplistic technique, there's nothing I can do about it except repeat the old adage: "You can lead a "horseplayer" to water but you cannot make him think."

The Psychology of Winning

Projection and Externalization As Disorders of Non-Winning

I just re-read an old article by Kelso Sturgeon in the now defunct Racing Action in which he mocked the words of client Dr. John Bolander spoken at one of our seminars. The good doctor's thesis dealt with how he managed to overcome his guilt feelings for winning other people's money at the races. Kelso, a veteran writer, handicapper and tout, scoffed at the notion that any profit seeking handicapper could be that much of a humanitarian.

Bolander is a healer. A very spiritual man who has traveled the Far East seeking wisdom deeper than that common to Western society. The sincerity of his seminar message was beyond question and it touched the hearts of his listeners because many of them also felt a twinge of guilt when they made substantial profits from handicapping.

Sturgeon could not accept that such inner feelings were even remotely possible despite the fact that most of us know that anxiety and guilt are handmaidens of the Judeo-Christian moral ethic decreeing that profiting from "wastrel" activity like gambling is evil.

In the past decade that perceived "evil" has been buried more deeply than in previous generations by ongoing legislation endorsing the expansion of legalized gambling. It will probably take at least another generation before most people accept what is legal as also being "moral."

Let's face it, society at large still looks upon us as being less than sane if we claim that betting on horses can consistently yield substantial profits. The majority of our peers can accept gambling as a moral recreational activity or pastime but NOT as a serious occupation or profession.

This paradox of legality vs. morality is still the undertow that endangers many clients who go swimming in the stochastic waters of horse race wagering.

As a result of my years working with so-called horse race "gamblers," I probably know more persons who actually win than most of you. By the same token, I also know more who do not succeed. Furthermore, I know them more intimately since they reveal to me their innermost doubts and fears instead of the bravado front of their public persona.

Doubt and fear are the liquors for the cocktail of anxiety. Shake well and they produce indecision. When imbibed, this mixture produces an unreasoning search for "absolutes" - Rules. Clients enjoying a winning cycle subscribe to my maxim that "there are no rules." Then when faced with losing more than a few races in a row, they seem to wake up in a different world and demand rules.

They are not discriminate about the source of such absolutes. I've dealt with persons who have Multiple Personality Disorder. The behavioral swings of anxiety ridden handicappers is no less disturbing. Their minds become so confused that no infusion of logic or reasoning can deter them from distorting all the handicapping education they successfully applied during their winning cycles.

The most obvious symptom of this disorder is when a client insists that it's "Impossible" to win a race that was clearly won in a Follow Up article because, according to the client, the winner was not a contender. It is not at all unusual for persons who lose, a race or in life, to self-justify their failure by insisting that someone else WON only through error or luck or "inside information," or whatever.

Each week I receive a number of Past Performances and readouts from clients who say they lost these races. They often include a note saying that their computer program had a "bad day." They leave no latitude for the fact that they may have erred. So, when I redo their races "correctly," meaning by the guidelines offered in the user instruction, they often feel deep resentment. The result is that we lose more clients by attempting to help than we would if we just ignored their problems. In short, they blame me for correcting their errors because I challenged their self-justification for not winning.

In the lexicon of psychology this is called "Projection." As defined in the newest edition of the Psychiatric Dictionary it is:

In its morbid manifestations, the projection mechanism is clearly an unconscious process, at least in the sense that the conscious ego is not at all aware of the process.

According to Ferenczi, projection is one of the first defensive or protective measures employed by the child in defense of his narcissism. When the child realizes that he is not omnipotent, he begins to ascribe omnipotence to those about him and comes to realize that others control him. He does not, however, abandon the feeling of his own importance and of his magical powers. See externalization; reality testing; reference, ideas of.

managed by motor activity, which is another way of saying that if reality is uncomfortable, one may alter or avoid it. Inner perceptions, such as the instincts and their representations, cannot be handled with the same facility; one cannot flee from the "merciless claims of his instincts." Whatever is painful or dangerous from within may be projected onto another person or upon some part of reality. When the conflicting issue has been externalized, the person may handle it as if it had always been an external situation.

I've tried to avoid psycho-babble in these articles but Projection is a mechanism recognized by every school of psychotherapy and, sad to say, is a prime behavioral manifestation of non-winners. It is especially prevalent in those we call "horseplayers."

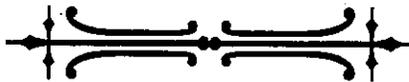

Both Projection and Externalization are essentially defense mechanisms used to protect one from a reality that has not been internalized (accepted). Regrettably, those who need such defense mechanisms are seldom susceptible to any educational or therapeutic intervention that might replace them with a healthy outlook. People will admit and submit to treatment for cancer, pneumonia, influenza or hepatitis because they're socially accepted diseases. Projection is not.

It can be said that every self-proclaimed innovator, expert and teacher is "projecting" by imposing on others his/her concepts and conclusions. There is a measure of truth in this. But, valid teacher-experts submit their concepts and conclusions to extensive testing and objective research before making claim to their expertise. The trick is to distinguish between them and the invalid. This is true in handicapping as in few other fields. We have no Securities and Exchange Commission, no ethics board of the American Medical Assn., no FDA or any other responsible body to oversee or guide us.

Empiricism is all we have. In short, "WHAT WORKS IS CORRECT."

Unfortunately, a mind distorted by the morbidity of Projection will refuse to take the medicine of success as prescribed by the valid practitioners of success. They will, however, take in huge doses, the placebos peddled by quacks dispensing outmoded folk remedies.

If your are a consistent winner you can read this article, perceive correctly that it no longer applies to you and take comfort in the fact. If you are still a non-winner, I suggest you absorb and accept the meaning of Projection and, from that perspective, reread and digest the handicapping material in the last four Follow-Ups.

THE CLIENTS SPEAK

Doc,

I just read the Psychology of Winning book again.
No more excuses.

Send Pace Launcher 4 as soon as you can.

Thanks,

Doc Sartin:

Please find check enclosed for Follow Up renewal.

Also wanted to inform you that I hit the Derby again. This makes 6 yrs in a row. I have to admit this was a little easier this year.

...Thank you for everything. Best of health to you and Shane.

T.M., Ohio

To: Dr. Howard Sartin

Please find enclosed my Pace Launcher 2 disk as per our agreement. I have been using the new PL4 program for only a short time but I think it has enormous potential. Keep up the good work.

J.T., Oklahoma

Dear Dr. Sartin:

Recently I purchased the Pace Launcher 4. Due to security protection I was not able to install the unit in my machine, but with the help of Mr. Shane my program is now running. I'd like to thank your staff for being so helpful and for their professionalism in all respects.

Respectfully,

J.R., New Jersey

...PL4V is great! Its great for playing exotic bets, doubles and Pic-3 wheels.

It was instrumental in my play of Pick-6 about a month ago at Hollywood when I hit for FIVE FIGURES! (over $10,000)

Working on keeping a track profile to increase my win bet ratio.

Thanks much,

W.H., Texas

Dear Sir:

Please renew my Follow Up subscription for one year. Enclosed is my $87 check for the first class mailing service.

I enjoy the reading very much. We old retired people need mental challenges and handicapping certainly provides that.

Thank you

J.K. Arizona

DOC COMMENTS: Mental challenges are essential to us older folk. Ask any insurance Co. actuary. They also can help those who are younger. Why wait?

To: Howard Sartin

Here is my renewal for the Follow Up for another year.

For your information, here is an article from the Toronto Star on the Ontario Jockey Club's new on-line wagering and race info scheme. Seems like this kind of thing is proliferating. What's interesting is that they claim they intend to carry as many or more tracks daily as Connecticut, Philadelphia etc OTBs and are aggressively targeting Americans, as there is no tax withholding or reporting on wagering winnings here in Canada.

With a positive, long-term ROI, I guess it doesn't really matter how much tax you pay on high odds exotic mutuels, but every little bit extra contributes directly to the bottom line!

I'm enjoying my handicapping, and looking forward to this new season at Woodbine, my principal track. All the best!

T.C., Canada

Dear Howard:

Here we go again!!!

This PL5Q is just fabulous!!!

By boxing the top 3 on the Betting Line produced 5 of 8 with an average mutuel of $57.42.

The payoffs today were just great.

Hit 6 of 8 on the Win end.

Just overwhelmed.

D.C. Millward, Canada

DOC COMMENTS: The $57.42 ave. is NOT for Win payoffs but for combined payoffs: Win-Exacta-Trifecta. They came from an unusually lucrative day at Hastings Park in Vancouver, B.C.

Hi Sartin Group

Would you please send me the Workbook for the April seminar. I have ordered the tapes from Joe Reay. And please tell Dr. Sartin I am one of his older clients - 73 - I don't know what I would do if I did not have all the Sartin Methods and Follow Ups

That's it. Thank you very much.
C.M., California

...Thanks for the reminder. I'm happy to send my renewal fee for the Follow Up.

I've been quite successful with Belmont's simulcast this year, due probably to better class horses (and, of course, the Sartin effect on my handicapping and confidence of mind).

I most certainly had the Belmont Triple Crown race exactor, figuring Silver Charm as the place horse and Touch Gold as the "fresh horse" with the right pace to lay slightly off the lead and make a strong move in the stretch. Chris McCarron didn't hurt either!! Too bad the exactor only paid $11.10 at Woodbine, -- but after all, the winner was a hometown horse. Mr. Stronach was back at Woodbine on the Sunday after, where he picked up another 3 winners, 'Gold Star Deputy' a favourite in the 4th race, 'Blaze on By' in the 5th race (at 2/1), 'All Firmed Up' in the 7th race which was a Neartic Prep on the turf course.

I had heard a rumour that Howard Sartin had been ill, I hope the information was false, but if true, then I hope he is fully recovered. He has been a good mentor to me and I wish him health, happiness and a long life.

Sincerely,
P.D., Canada

DOC COMMENTS: Howard Sartin is alive and well. Rumors to the contrary are mainstream expert fantasy wish fulfillments.

...Sorry it took so long to return Pace Launcher 3 but my lap top has been down for some time and I just got it fixed last week. I wanted to return security to the floppy disc.

The PL4 program is really great. With all distances, surfaces, and tracks, the number 2 and 3 SPN horses are really winning. The 1 and 2 ranked are good for third choices if the odds are right. Anything over 4 rarely wins.

D.S., California

Doc, Shane,
Pace Launcher 4 is really beating the daylights out of MTH, PEN to name just a couple. I thought the last Follow Up was again, excellent.

I put another (very honest) post on the BRIS BB, we'll see if they'll run it Monday. Many of the 'Wanna be's' have NO idea what they are missing by not having (and using properly) Pace Launcher 4. It's Awesome.

E.A., Nevada

Hi Shane,

...I love Pace Launcher 4. I made a phonebet while at work today on the first race at Hollywood. It paid $23 to win. Technology is great.

A.A., Texas

Hi Shane,

....tell Doc, great job he did in Follow Up 63 for the great article on page 24 on var. That one little tip has enabled me to throw out a lot of non contenders.

B.T., Connecticut

ANATOMY OF A DECISION: Part 2

JUNE 28, 1997

June 28 was Shane's birthday. We went to the races. The handicapping gods gave him a nice gift: six bettable races and six profitable payoffs. Most of our previous off-sight betting forays had been on weekdays when we found only two or three double digit payoffs for our efforts. This was a Saturday and the results made us decide to try weekends henceforth.

Once again, a comment to those of you in the East and Midwest. We have more than ample evidence sent to us by clients in your areas to prove that a procedure identical to what we are doing throughout this issue is just as profitable in your region. The reason we're focusing on tracks we can actually bet here is: Wagering decisions are really more vital to winning than handicapping decisions. Showing you how the programs get winners is far less important than showing you how to bet winners and, when profitable, place and show horses. This fact has become increasingly obvious as we study client readouts where they blatantly fail to make bets on the rankings that produce double digit winners for us!

In the following six races I will take you through the exact same procedure as I did on June 4. I will apply no reasoning that I have not explained at least three times in previous Follow Ups. However, since many of you have failed - or simple refused - to heed my articles of advice about certain readouts and rankings, I'll explain again why I apply any factor that some of you have forgotten about or don't care to understand.

I see regrettable evidence that many clients refuse to examine their Racing Form or print out their downloaded readouts. They just pick x'd pacelines virtually at random without applying any reasoning. This is quick, easy and seems to provide enough winners to help them break even. They prefer convenience over profit.

I don't. These example races will reflect my preference for profit over "user friendliness." Yes, we download but I always buy a Daily Racing Form or, when phone betting, print out my downloaded PP's. I've been told that this takes too much time and printer paper. Anyone saying that belongs to the group that doesn't really want to win.

Jim the "Hat" produced AODDS but you'll never see him at a wagering sight without a Racing Form!

There are eight horses in this first race. We'll put them all in the computer strictly following the BEST OF LAST THREE, COMPARABLE guideline. I enter them all to be able to demonstrate the effectiveness of the HIDE feature. If you question my using PUZAR'S line 1 because line 2 has a higher SR, enter BOTH lines and use the one that produces the higher SPN. Note that REGAL ROWDY has the high

Beyer number but hasn't raced since 1996. NANCY'S FRENCH FRY has the HIGH Beyer for 1997. It was the favorite. REGAL, 2nd favorite. Their low closing odds are typical of top Beyer figure horses. This is something I always note because if our figures point to other choices they will pay higher odds as a result of the heavy betting on Beyer's top 2.

RANK for NINETY and GREAT make them immediate victims of the HIDE.

AWESOME will rank high on our readouts but I discount its faster times because they were earned on the turf. I know a lot of clients will go back to 1996 when this 5 year old horse performed so well on the dirt. Instead of going back, just go bet it, put the ticket in your pocket and make a more sensible bet in the time remaining before post. I eliminated the horse from wagering consideration.

This is what I see after HIDE.

Profits from this race did not come from any handicapping wizardry but from simply following the exact directions that I've been giving since issue #59.

Before going to the second race, let me explain the BAL figures shown to the right of BETTING LINE. These come from the rankings of E/ep and L/ep. I've often stressed the importance of these readouts and those who really want to win are using them effectively. You find them on Pace Launcher's Energy Generator and on the #8 Graph.

Beyer number but hasn't raced since 1996. NANCY'S FRENCH FRY has the HIGH Beyer for 1997. It was the favorite. REGAL, 2nd favorite. Their low closing odds are typical of top Beyer figure horses. This is something I always note because if our figures point to other choices they will pay higher odds as a result of the heavy betting on Beyer's top 2.

Again I write the NET SR's on my Form. TIZ, A KIN, PERFECTED, PARIS, NICHOLAS and NASKRA are immediately OUT! While SPECK has a net SR that barely qualifies, it does so off two lack luster performances at today's Maiden Claiming price. COLBA's 74 is borderline. I left it in only because of its 60+ to one odds. I like to put a show bet on horses that minimally qualify with these kinds of odds.

Pre-qualifying through use of NET SR'S quickly gets the field down to five horses. I equalize distances and look at COMPOSITE RANKINGS:

Painless and fast. I'm left with the above five horses. Makes me shake my head in sympathy for those who still feel they have to laboriously pour over past performances using outmoded guidelines for contender-paceline selection. Perhaps they're masochists. This process should take no more than 20 minutes per 9 race card.

GETA is ranked #2 Composite. First on SPN. It's the favorite at odds of 1.3 to-1. I will not bet a horse that might pay only $5.20. If you will, just use eyeball scan. Since I won't bet it, I HIDE it! Look:

All are now DOUBLE DIGIT BOTTOM LINE HORSES. ABBY's odds are 6.8-to 1. SHY is 11.7 to one, REM, 11.30 to one. By following instructions all handicapping DECISIONS have been eliminated. Now the only decision is how to bet. I put a show wager on COLBA. Bet ABBY to win and place. Bet both REMEMBER and SHY across the board. Boxed SHY, REM and ABBY for an exacta: $243.80. Failed to follow my own advice on Trifecta wagering and gave up $2,252.40. I could lie and say I got it but that would be counter productive.

The tragedy I've observed when getting client letters on races like this is, most of them would have - DID - bet on a horse like GET A, then asked me plaintively why the —"Program got GET A instead of the winner?" Those people are handicapping with yesterday's guidelines, refusing to follow TODAY'S directions. I hope this issue of the Follow Up will serve to minimize such questions.

Before proceeding, let me anticipate questions from those who try eliminating horses by TOTAL ENERGY. Yes, TE is Class. But if you'll look at PUZAR's apparent deficiency in the first race, you'll see a figure for its pace race. Enter some of its past better efforts and you'll find an abundance of TE.

The 2nd race was a Maiden Claimer (no first time starters). REM appears to be lacking in TE, But - in maiden races this has little or no meaning. Wait 'till these horses have a Win. Then compare their TE with proven winners in their next race.

If you think that MMMM GOOD is too much of a "suspicious class drop" you will not win this race. Many of you have been unduly influenced about such class drops and in another article in this issue I address the subject with a horse named CADELOTTO. The whole thing is based on the logic that an owner or trainer won't let a horse go for less than it's worth. It assumes that owners and trainers always act logically and that there are NO private agreements between owners and trainers that involve a taxable sale for a LOWER price with non-taxable money being exchanged under the table. The fact of the matter is that so-called "suspicious class drops" are regular occurrences in the East, South and Midwest. Clients from these areas who were brainwashed against betting such horses have been burned quite frequently. At best it is primarily a West Coast phenomenon.

The key to this race is defining the word "SUSPICIOUS."

Let's look at the records of CADELOTTO and MMMM GOOD and try to determine which animal has reached a point where it should be sold at a bargain basement price:

In its last ten races this horse has run well 5 times for earnings totaling $49,500. Its APV is 103.1%. With the exception of a 2nd place finish in a route on 23 May, 1996, it earned its share of purses in sprints. It's ave. NET SR in Sprints is 85.5. While I view Beyer Ratings only as indicators of favorites, its ave. Beyer Rating is 79.8.

Over ten races this horse has run 8 good races with total earnings of $120,190. Its APV is 276.9% Its average NET SR in Routes is 86.2. Bear in mind that Route SR'S run about 5 points LESS than those earned in sprints. So its SR edge is significant. Ave. Beyer Figure = 90.37, for what it's worth.

Now let's apply some reverse logic to these figures:

CANDELOTTO. Since Dec. 1995, this horse has earned an average of $24,750 a year. It sold for $10,000. Gross profit over TWO years: $39,500. Per year: $19,750.

MMMM GOOD. Since Aug 14, 1996 this horse has earned $120,190 in a few days over one year! It also sold for $10,000. Gross Profit for one year's expense $110,190. Per year: $110,190.

The mainstream logic that introduced the "Suspicious Class Drop" theory will reason that selling MMM GOOD was the more suspicious. Why? Its owners made more, 11 times more, not less profit.

The owners of CANDELOTTO sold the horse for a price that was less than double its average annual earnings.

MMMM GOOD is a far superior horse. Mainstream "suspicion" is that it's gone bad. My "suspicion" is that its quality has not been fully tapped and there's more than meets the eye in that $10,000 sale.

CADEL finished 7th in its next race.

MMMM GOOD went on to win 2 in a row.

If you still think MMMM GOOD should be eliminated, don't bet it. Lose the race. There's another along in 30 minutes

In offering exercise races, I'm particularly happy when a winner is NOT in the top 2 Bottom Line. This affords everyone the opportunity to apply as much practice and skill in making wagering decisions as they do in handicapping. If you would make the decision to eschew MMMM because of its 3 Numerical Ranking, I might suggest you go over a month of your handicapping rankings and compare them with result charts for the same races. If you're like many others, you often exclaim that you "Had that horse but didn't bet it!" There is far more to be learned by including 3rd and/or 4th Bottom Line horses in your wagering strategy than in just focusing on top 2.

RACE #5

STAFF & HILLARY are top choices to win. Don't fight it. I made a Place/Show bet on MYRTLE, the only value in the race:

Two choices with SWOON: Xtract Sprint from Route 2 back, or look at its last good sprint. I won't use the sprint but I might enter it just to see how it fared. That procedure is not in my simplified directions to you. However, since the horse had 4 GOOD sprints, I felt justified in Xtracting the sprint from 2 back.

NOTE: I never Xtract or Project unless I find similar justification.

Client Paul Charles was sitting with us this day. He saw my Racing Form notation about betting DARLING FLAME to show, did so and collected $9.20. My reasoning for that decision is NOT part of this exercise.

There might be some question about my Xtracting the sprint from COOL CAD'S 3rd back, a route. It just lost at today's distance, same claiming level. If this bothers you, don't use the horse. It does place and at one time had two excellent sprints. Whatever you decide you still get the winner on TOP. If you accepted CHIEF FIRE based on its Net SR, last race at $8,000, it wouldn't alter the ranking of the winner but it would rank the horse ahead of COOL CAD (COOL CAD won its next out).

I'm skeptical of accepting man-made claiming values as true class indicators, but a Maiden $8,000 Claiming is below the bottom of the barrel at a major oval. The horse has run 10 times and managed only a third place finish. To elevate this horse over COOL CAD, with 7 wins, would be a mistake. Do so if you choose. You'll still get the winner and only miss the $149.40 exacta or $83.20 Quinella.

There you have it. Six races all offering profitable wagers. Four, extremely profitable. There was no trickery involved. No slight of hand. And, especially, little or no handicapping skills were applied! Each race was done in strict accordance with the Instructional Guidelines I've been offering since 1996. All Pace Launcher users should have had the same readouts.

This day's results should convince you that Contender/Paceline selection is NOT the problem and that our latest advances in computer programs will definitely provide you with a wealth of longer priced winners and in-the-money finishers.

It is NOW time to recognize the fact that WAGERING DECISIONS ARE the problem and to DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

The only way I know to help you accomplish this is to harp, nag, cajole and provide examples of how to wager profitably with the same readouts you now have.

If everyone would concentrate on wagering with as much intensity that they do "handicapping," they would enjoy optimal profits relative to bet size. If you are failing to get these kinds of results, I strongly urge you to cease trying to fit the conventional description of a "HANDICAPPER" and just do what wins.

Assimilation of Expert Handicapping Factors VS. Computerized Constancy

"...but you never know when a permanent downturn could occur!"

This is the last line from a letter written to me by a highly skilled and deservedly well-regarded professional handicapper who eschews computer assistance.

The inference here represents either a brief flirtation with the goddess of Melancholia or an innate fear of what we call TGA -Temporary Global Amnesia, defined thusly in the updated Psychiatric Dictionary:

amnesia, transient global (TGA) Abrupt onset of disorientation due to loss of ability to encode recent memories plus retrograde amnesia of variable duration, with retention of a remarkable degree of alertness and responsiveness and capacity for fairly complicated mental performances. The episode, which is almost never repeated, lasts for a few hours, when the patient regains his ability to encode recent memories despite amnesia for events that occurred during the acute phase. TGA is presumed to be due to transient ischemia of the hippocampus-fornix-hypothalamic system, although there is no direct proof of the theory. It is to be differentiated from hysterical amnesia and from the amnesia of temporal lobe epilepsy.

The sub-clinical manifestations of TGA are not exclusive to the aging. Young or old it's something that happens intermittently to virtually everyone. The chief cause is trying to keep too much data, particularly complex, multiphasic data, in our heads. It frequently occurs at the most inconvenient of times. TGA could have been the reason so many of you flunked the Client Exercise Race in Follow Up #62 by failing to note that SERGENT'S 90 SR paceline came from Hastings Park.

Then again, as Freud said, "Sometimes a cigar is only a cigar."

The best known author/handicappers say they win by utilizing a vast store of personal knowledge, skill and background data and, most of all, deep insights. They have reason to fear this insidious syndrome. Their skills are derived from being able to consistently connect the synaptic dots of their cognitive ability to recognize esoteric nuances to make their insightful analysis.

This is the kind of reasoning so brilliantly applied by Mark Cramer in his two tomes on Kinky and Kinkier Handicapping and by Dave Litfin in his last two books, Expert Handicapping and Real-Life Handicapping. TGA should have little negative affect on those who consistently apply a viable methodological computer handicapping program.

UNIQUE HANDICAPPING SKILLS

I know from direct experience that Cramer is a winner. I have reason to suspect that Litfin and Barry Meadow are too. However, many other well-known expert author-handicappers fail to live up to their hyperbolic promises. Included in the cognitive arsenal of the winners are such things as knowing which races to apply certain esoteric factors and when to ignore them or apply something quite different. Such as when to discount a horse because of an alleged "bounce" and when to simply overlook any consideration for "bounce." Incorporating breeding and various aspects of dosage.

They almost never apply the identical reasoning in consecutive races: an extremely difficult procedure to duplicate. They seem to have an instinct for when and when not to apply any given technique, such as personally defined use of self-made Par Times and Par Variants, eyeball detection of so-called Race Shapes for determining whether a front runner, midpack or closer will be most likely to win. Detecting the "Lone Early" and the "improving horse" from a subjective, visual perception of Form Cycle. Detailed knowledge of current trainer patterns in concert with jockey skills. There are many, many other analytic factors employed by the above giants.

They can all be condensed as:

A stylistic recognition of hidden nuances perceived from a great store of personal knowledge and DRF Past Performance data.

To the majority, none of this can be synthesized or truly taught. It can, however, be learned in time, even if only by the very few. The problem is that most people who are unable to learn it keep on trying and losing as a result. For 15 years we tried to teach the classical definition of "Handicapping." I say "we" because I did not. Tom Brohamer and others with personal handicapping skills did. For the most part they failed. Not because they couldn't teach it. Students just couldn't (wouldn't) learn it.

All the aforementioned winners have personalized gimmicks that are their handicapping trademark. The only winning expert to agree that our computer readouts can match "Kinky Handicapping" is honest Mark Cramer. Over a span of 22 years, the only person I've ever met who consistently profits from his subjective perception only, is Jim "The Hat" Bradshaw. You'd have to be a supreme egotist to think that you can equal his mystic skills. But go ahead and try if you wish.

To help myself and all of you duplicate the results, real and claimed, by the above named experts, I obtained all their books loaded with past performances and results, and worked their winning races. I began this exercise in 1975 with Beyer's Picking Winners and did it again most recently with Litfin's books, gifts from client Steve Schmidt, in which Dave discounts "pace ratings" in favor of his personal analysis. Result: our latest computer program got all of his higher paying wins in the TOP 2. I didn't do any races won by the favorites.

I'm not disparaging Litfin's skills, just showing how one can win without them. It's a good thing I was able to win his example races by computer assistance. I could never do it by "Handicapping."

Many of you think you can, in which case you should be teaching ME! However, if your self-proclaimed "handicapping" skills are not paying off, ask yourself... as did Macbeth, are these skills just ..."a fatal vision..a dagger of the mind...a false creation proceeding from a heat oppressed brain?"

In other words, are you a victim of self-delusion? Your profit/loss records will provide an immediate answer to that question. If those records are less than satisfactory, I suggest you focus on utilizing the "daggers" of the Methodology.

I've found that it's almost impossible to duplicate from my intuition the highly individualized "handicapping" skills of a Cramer, a Litfin or any of the others who qualify as winning experts. By the same token, it's very easy to follow the procedure of another acknowledged expert, Buddy Alvarado (yes, I know this is in Pub Desk, but it bears repeating!):

"What I like to see are the books and programs by fellows such as Andrew Beyer and William Quirin, the experts. And don't get me wrong, these guys are experts. These people serve a purpose. Whether they're teaching the correct thing, I can't say. But for my purposes, speaking purely for myself, what they teach me is very important. And that is, whatever they say, do the exact opposite. That's a very valuable piece of information as far as I'm concerned. You need that. You cannot develop a pattern of success unless you know who the losers are. Once you know who the losers are, once you discern properly the pattern they are using, if you do everything but what they do, you will be successful. This is basically what I've done in handicapping."

Buddy Alvarado, certified winner

as quoted by Barry Gifford in, A Day at the Races

Like almost everything else in horse racing, accepted definitions of logic play little part in Buddy's reasoning. So, logic aside, if you want to duplicate the success of experts, just ignore everything they say and do the opposite. Very few are willing to do this because they think it makes no sense. However, Bradshaw and I have never had any problems following Alvarado's thesis.

It's far easier to ignore esoteric "handicapping" factors than it is to try learning to duplicate them. This is especially true when following their guidelines as to WHAT is a playable race. When I see result charts from a day with a lot of low priced favorites and maybe one or two double digit winners, I pray that none of you are following their rules. To really profit in racing today you need to handicap all the races (except those maiden races that don't qualify) and then wager on those where your program indicates an OVERLAY.

Methodology handicappers investing from formulae not subject to ego-centered deviations will enjoy a more consistent win proficiency and stable profit. Of course, that's based on using a viable computer program as instructed. Trying to mix subjective, ego-born nuances into a methodological procedure is dangerous for most.

Where the ego-based handicapper does have it over most of us is in betting. Their strong egos encourage larger bets and less anxiety from losses. Hence, when their ego is justified, they make more money than most Methodology clients. Sad to say but most computer handicappers do not invest their egos into the program they're using and never fully appreciate its potential or the concept behind its algorithms. They become overly dependent on selected restricted readouts. When those don't produce the winner they have a mild anxiety attack. Because they are not comfortably familiar with the entire spectrum of their readouts they miss out on many profitable opportunities.

The failure of clients to understand concept was manifest by a few of the attendees at the April Beaumont Workshop. They perceived readouts as singular entities instead of relating them to the whole. In short, they regard their programs as a foreign substance and not as an intimate extension of self. A parallel to this is the taking of prescription medicine: magic bullets for cure. Patients expect magic without integrating their medicine into a healthy life regimen.

Those whose handicapping is EGO-BASED are decidedly aware of the subjective CONCEPTS that drive their ego. So is the person who conceives and develops the formulae that drives a computer program. You can become as anxiety-free and as bold a bettor as any expert if you make an EGO investment in your program.

I confess that my theory about ego-centered big bettors was somewhat shattered when Andy Beyer said in his Washington Post column that he had a losing 1996. His words were picked up by other columnists around the world. I admire Beyer's honesty but I think his catharsis was counterproductive since a lot of people who made Andy an icon were disillusioned. A losing year is one thing but his subsequent statement that perhaps "Racing had passed him by," is consistent with the TGA fears of many other experts. Some of them privately admitted that they also had a losing 1996 even when not relying on Beyer Figures.

Ironic, since 1996 was my best year ever. That takes in a total of 21 years. 1997, my 22nd year, is showing even greater promise, thanks to Pace Launcher 4. It's my job to teach, or at least help people to learn, and leave boasting of success to clients. However for me, doing "the exact opposite" from the experts continues to pay off. I've said it often but it bears repeating: my research, resulting in our advanced programs, is purposely designed to be counter to accepted "conventional" wisdom. Long before Barry Gifford quoted Buddy Alvarado, I discovered that I could never find anything in mainstream "rules" that consistently won. So I produced factors that countered what DID NOT WIN! I've never ceased to produce readouts that furthered this cause. The latest are SPN (Sartin Pace Numbers), E/ep-L/ep, the forthcoming new and improved Entropy, Total Speed and revised Factor X.

I've stressed repeatedly that ratings from our CHAOS math formulae are a far superior measure of Early-Late Potential than anything from any other source, including those pirated from our old formulae from books like Modern Pace Handicapping and Pace Makes The Race. The mathematics employed in the readouts from those books was linear and static.

Here is how E/ep and L/ep are defined in our Glossary of Terms:

E/EP: Early Energy Potential.

Isolates horse by degree of early potential from lines that show little evidence of early pace.

Isolates horses by degree of late energy potential from lines evidencing little tendency toward late energy.

Shane takes client calls for three hours every week day. I take some calls myself. When we speak of the power of E/ep and L/ep and other vital readouts to perform exactly as described in the Exercise Races in this issue, many callers act surprised and indicate it's something they never heard about before. These readouts are explained in the Pace Launcher 4 Manual and continue to be the subject of most Follow Up articles. It would appear that even some Follow Up subscribers also suffer from periodic attacks of TGA.

NOTE: All statistics quoted in this issue are derived from races selected for profit potential: An average of 4 races a day per track.

The Final Decision: Wagering Strategy – Demanding Profit

"I ain't goin' in there to lose, Howard."

Two a.m. Phone call to me from former Middle Weight Boxing Champion, Bobo Olson.

Each month Shane receives phone calls and e-mail from clients and non-clients alike asking what average mutuel they should expect. This is an extremely naive question. While I have nothing against naivete or innocence, the very nature of the question makes me fear for the asker's state of mind. My fear stems from knowing that anyone asking such a question and believing ANY answer is setting him/herself up to be taken in by the claims and promises of charlatans.

Your average mutuel can be determined only by you. It is dependent on the mutuels available by day, by track, and by what you will accept.

All wagering strategy decisions are 20% mathematical and 80% psychological. The mathematical part is absolute, determined by 3rd grade arithmetic. Your return must exceed your investment. No convoluted figure manipulations will alter this formula. This is the 20% that virtually everyone accepts. The remaining psychological 80% assures that only five percent of the bettors will win on any given day and only about 2 percent will win with any degree of consistency.

Faulty subjective reasoning is the chief culprit that causes so many to lose money while winning enough races to show a profit.

FAULT #1: An improperly balanced wagering scale for exotics relative to straight bets and exotics.

EXAMPLE: (using a $2 base) $6 to win on a horse paying $8.80. Net Return = $20.40.

PLUS an exacta box costing $24. Exacta comes in 1-3. Loss = 24. NET LOSS for race = $3.60.

The loss becomes even greater when a trifecta is also bet and lost.

SOLUTION: Always make your straight wagers large enough to compensate for the potential loss of your exotic bets.

EXAMPLE: $12 to win: Return NET $40.80. Lose the $24 Exacta bet. NET PROFIT = $16.80.

FAULT #2: Wagering on races where obvious choices will yield less than a NET profit of 100 percent.

EXAMPLE: Total bet to win: $10. $4 on an overlay, $6 on a $5 Winner. Low odds horse wins. Return = $15. Minus $10 = $5. Only a profit of 33.3 percent. You need a WIN consistency of eighty percent just to break even doing this.

Holding out for 100% on your per race investment demands a mutuel of NO LESS than $7. (Note I didn't say WIN mutuel). Even this requires an average consistency of 60 percent to produce even a five percent profit. Now you know why so many clients making a profit hold out for minimum odds of 3 to one.

I can hear the cry now. "Low priced winners dominate the mutuels at my track. How can I hold out for higher odds!"

SOLUTION: Either achieve a win percentage that will make you a profit from low odds winners or stay out of these races entirely.

As stated previously, I've been going to my nearest off-site wagering center on a fairly regular basis so I can answer from direct experience questions about all the problems you face when making handicapping/wagering decisions. At no track in the country are low priced winners more prevalent than at Hollywood Park.

A lot of clients are probably wishing that Shane and I did not go regularly to bet the races. Our success every time we go is making me less tolerant of some of the seemingly idiotic reasons a few people still give for not succeeding. I assure you that I handicap and bet exactly as I prescribe for you, with no reliance on any esoteric handicapping skills or special insights.

Furthermore, one day each week I bet minimally just to see how much profit I can make investing amounts that I feel are the least any client might expend. $10 to win with a $6 - $4 ration. Another $10 a race when I see a potential lucrative in-the-money or Exacta/Quinella wager, never more than $20 a race. My average profit over 5 such days has equaled my monthly Social Security check.

Perhaps now you can see why I discount the moans of those pleading poverty because they can't show a profit. These persons are simply refusing to follow my simple procedure for making contender/pace line selection and, equally important, wagering decisions based on the value projections of Bottom Line/Betting Line.

While I usually deplore people who cite how "they" do it, I have to make an exception when describing the exact procedure we've been using to win over 75% of the races since June 4, 1997. I'll repeat that our main focus is in getting ALL the double digit win mutuels. So far we've missed only five.

As for the plethora of low win mutuels, here is how Shane and I handle them on the majority of days when only two or three WIN value opportunities appear. Go to this issue's segment about Hollywood Park on June 4, 1997. The fourth race was a Maiden event with several first time starters. Remember, long ago I abandoned my stance against investing in Maiden Races except when there are a lot of First Time Starters (FTS).

SCARED MONEY

I tried laying some 20 and 100 dollar bills on a therapy couch to see if I could elicit some emotional response. Nothing. No fear, no joy, no sadness, no lust. Money does not get scared. People do.

The reasoning behind the "Scared Money" theory is that having a minuscule bankroll causes one to bet less and with more caution. That's a theory that often works in reverse. Take the person with a lot of money and a sizable bankroll. He (and it's usually a he) will frequently take wild flings on every possible exotic bet available, bet to WIN only, even on horses where a properly proportioned Win-Place or across the board wager would show a profit even when a selection only finishes in the money.

People with a lot of capital are less prone to keep precise betting records. They count every win as a NET win, failing to note how much they invested to acquire their vaunted gross. I've also noticed in observing and reviewing the ROI's of some better known acclaimed winners that they bet substantially more than most of us, spot play what they feel are sure things, accept a lower average mutuel and net return on investment.

WHY NOT?

Their standard wager is $300 a race. Some bet to win only. Others bet $200 to win, $100 to place as a "saver." They bet ONE HORSE to win and accept a $6.90 average mutuel. If their win percentage is 35%, their ROI is over 20%. Spot playing only 2 races a day at $300, they'll net an average of over $120 a day. A lot of us who bet less and hold out for a higher average mutuel, have to work harder and stay longer to make that much profit.

This is why if you try emulating the handicapping techniques of the "Big Names," you must also duplicate their betting ratios and spot play limitations. If you cannot or will not, take solace in the fact that with an average net return of 49% on investment you'll earn that same $120 + a day betting only a TOTAL of $250.

If you bet 5 races per day at $300 a race on TWO horses to win with a 60-40 ratio, you'd make $735 per day. One horse bettors refuse to do the math that proves this. Costs a little more in the beginning but worth much more at the end.

When I go to the track with clients and witness their anguish over which two horses to bet,

I shudder to think of the anxiety attacks they would suffer if they had to decide on just one. There are those who can do it with a measure of success. I'm not one of them. Nor are the majority of clients I've observed.

I remember when the late Darell Martin and I took a $100 bank plus $26 food money to Calexico to bet across the border in Mexicali. We vowed not to return home until we had at least doubled our bank. Was that $100 scared money? Granted I paid the motel bill with a credit card. I was never scared even though I'm a physical coward. Yet I'm intellectually very brave. If I believe in something neither man nor hell can deter me. I do as Mohammed Ali did, psyche myself up.

In Mexico we had some tense moments and ate a lot of Church's takeout fried chicken. Yet we more than doubled our bank ($287). If we had a bank that could accommodate $300 wagers on one horse to win, would I have followed the lead of those experts?

NO WAY! We'd have gone broke the third day. As it eventuated, our five day Return On Investment was one hundred eighty-seven percent plus half a barrel of left over fried chicken!

To many clients, any amount of money represents - to them - "Scared Money" because they fail to keep records that reveal precisely the percent of winners coming from their most vital readouts. Those of you who've been with me for a while, will remember that Darell Martin and I used to keep printouts of ALL our readouts. Whenever we'd get anxious we would turn them face down on the floor like a deck of cards and pick out 20 at random. We repeated the process many times. In NO random sequence did our most predictive readout FAIL TO SHOW A 20 RACE CYCLE PROFIT! Furthermore, in NO CYCLE did we lose more than three races in a row.

Going through this process regularly gave us optimal confidence. For the life of me I don't understand why all of you don't do this.

Our regression technique did not stem from mental brilliance. It was derived from FEAR! To alleviate that fear we developed the exercise.

Here are some recent records reported to me by two clients who follow similar regression procedures.

From D.H. Huntington Beach, CA.

"The Pace Launcher 4 program is really great! At ALL distances, surfaces and tracks, the #2 and #3 SPN horses are really winning big. The #1 and #2 ranked are good choices when the odds are right. ANYTHING over 4 rarely wins."

And a weekend report from A.R. in Canada. Wagering at Woodbine and, by phone in California and New York. She made wagers on 5 races at HOL, 7 at BEL and 6 at WO.

SPN RANKINGS – WIN

HOLLYWOOD	BELMONT	WOODBINE

SPN RANKINGS – PLACE

HOLLYWOOD	BELMONT	WOODBINE

I would suggest that alongside each RANKING number the actual MUTUEL should also be recorded. This way one can tell which rankings are producing the favorites and which the higher paying opportunities.

Making these kinds of records after each investment day will virtually eliminate all wagering anxieties. The only caveat is: FOLLOW THE PRESCRIBED CONTENDER/PACE LINE PROCEDURES AND DON'T TRY USING THE OLD PREPONDERANCE OF EVIDENCE NONSENSE FOR MULTIPLE READOUT ANALYSIS!

Sessions with an Exorcist: My Brutal Transformation from Horseplayer to Successful Handicapper

By GUY WADSWORTH

Friends, we have been deceived. It seems that we were deluded into thinking that DOC is a psychologist. This may be true, but it seems that 'exorcist' is a better description.

For years I have been barraged with Doc's criticism concerning any ideas that I had about handicapping. Gentler comments were "linear thinking", "you don't handicap", "we threw that out in '87", etc. Gentle soul that I am, I absorbed this with good grace. Only losing my temper occasionally, seldom more than once a week. One time I was so angry I stormed out, not realizing until I was outside that we were at my house. None but the most intrepid could have quietly returned and resumed his seat at the computer.

Since I'd little experience actually betting, I'd noticed that making decisions before the race is run denies you the benefit of 20/20 hindsight. I decided to beard the lion in his den, face the storms and rages of fortune and brave the battle of making decisions. In short armed with printouts downloaded from TrackMaster, I went to the OTB with Doc.

The first time we went, results were mixed. Some program tune-ups were needed and made. But, the primary problem was betting properly. It was scary to make a $6 Quinella bet and get a return of $9 or less. There was DOC and his big stick. "You are a stupid boy, Grasshopper. You will never learn." Is scorn a worse punishment than poverty?

From the drawing board to the OTB and back again. Doc would look at my readouts, chuckle and disappear. After the race he would throw down 2 or 3 tickets and say 'Thank You'. One learns to hate smug smiles.

"Doc, could you please help me out here?" I pled, hoping for a hint on how to bet.

"I am."

"You realize that I am financially impaired. My mistakes could take me out of the game."

"Tell me something I don't know."

With such patience and sympathy, how could I lose? Most important was the lesson that no amount of research or practice will take the place of being there with real money at risk. Las Vegas has made billions from people who were unbeatable at home. They went there knowing they would win only to be crushed. Why does judgment run like a yellow dog when real money is on the line?

Finally, with program refinements completed, I had a good day. I handicapped 18 races at 3 tracks: Hollywood, Pleasanton and Woodbine. Bottom Line-Betting Line turned up 15 winners in the top 2 (83.3%). Two more were ranked third and one fourth. My bets were as modest as the prices were for the most part. I found that cashing tickets was loads of fun. But, I know that there is more to it than that and that not every day will be as easy as that one was.

Doc took my companion and me out to dinner. He was happy. He paid me compliments. He displayed the benefits of a fat wallet by picking up the check.

I have tried several other tracks and find that the Trackmaster download with Doc's formulas show high quality results. I can't say I know it all. Nor am I ready, as the saying goes "to give up my day job." My confidence is growing and I believe for the first time that to quote the immortal Broderick Crawford's gravelly, "Just do what I'm tellin' ya" (from Born Yesterday), works when the DOC says it.

The heart of the matter is to see the value bet, the good overlay. At this time with all the computer data available, it is said that mutuels have gone down. On average they have not. The public still gets its share and at times one sees a lot of mutuels less than $6. True, odds have gone down on favorites but they've gone up appreciably on longshots. SO, money still can be made.

Perception is the foundation of wisdom. DOC always seems to make more money off Shane's or my readouts than we do. Maybe he uses ESP (no pun intended).

Yes friends, the world's second oldest profession, wagering, can be mastered. The rarified air of success can be ours.

In adopting Pace Launcher for Trackmaster downloads, I included the feature of being able to see the lines EQUALIZED and ADJUSTED before they are selected. Trackmaster does not make their download available until the morning line has been established. The printouts identify the horses by program number, making betting easier.

The program contains all of the calculations required for analyzing each race. Changing programs is not required. One keystroke produces a two pageprint out of the most current hot screens.

Now, I would like to show you 2 races at Hollywood Park on July 13th.

This is how the download sees it on the top 2 contenders.

DOC intercedes.....Anatomy of a Decision: Part 3- July 13, 1997

This day has particular significance because, after I noted the NET SSR's (Sartin Speed Ratings) on my Racing Form, I used the printed readouts made by Guy Wadsworth, who downloads into a special version of PL4Q downloaded from TrackMaster, the service of his choice.

First a word about Wadsworth. Because he works for me I can intimidate or, in his words, bully him, to a degree that is impossible in dealing with clients. When he errs I can indulge in abusive confrontation, often even shouting at him to make a point. In trying to make Guy a winner I had to employ Exorcism more than instruction. At one time he was afflicted with every known erroneous mainstream notion learned from a past association with a well-known handicapping expert for whom he did some programming.

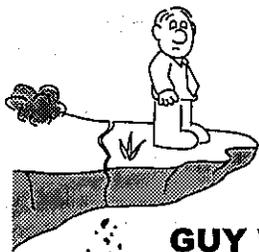

Thus, his early mind set was a perfect personification of what I call "Horseplayer Mentality." After many brutal sessions with me that were more DE-briefing than instruction, Wadsworth volunteered to be a guinea pig for this issue.

His handicapping on-the-job re-education began in June. He had several winning days and a couple in which he lost an average of $13. All his losses stemmed not from incorrect handicapping, but from bad wagering decisions. So anxious was he to win that he made Quinella bets on races paying $6.40 for every $6 invested. So, when his selection came in 1-3, he lost $6. He also bet BOTTOM LINE horses with odds projected EVEN that actually paid close to even. Like many others, he got hung up on the numerical Top 2 and overlooked double-digit long shots ranked third on BOTTOM LINE, even though their projected BETTING LINE odds pointed to an overlay.

After much haranguing and a few curses, he got the point. He evaluated all of PL4's VITAL readouts and reconciled them with his wagering decisions. He enjoyed a major triumph on July 13. He eschewed the low paying races and stayed out of races with first time starters (FTS).

He focused on Races 3, 5 and 6. He lost #3 but more than doubled his bank on races 5 and 6. I did likewise with his readouts.

From Guy...

This was a straight forward no-brainer for us. Not to the public, however, since the horse paid off in double digits ($16.80).

The next is not for the faint of heart or those with "top-two-itis". Also look at its Factor X ranking and read Doc's article on X this issue (PACE LAUNCHER 4 & 5Q).. Look at the possibilities in races like this when you expand your sights beyond the numerical top two.

For those devotes of mainstream handicapping who might discount LET'S, note that it just won a race with a purse equivalent to today's. $42,000 X .55 = $23,000. Also, read the conditions of the race.

I would not like to give a false impression of Doc's treatment of me during all this. It wasn't as bad as I said. It was worse! I omitted the expletives and the shouting. In fact if Doc treated his clients like he's treated me, we could hold meetings for everyone in a medium sized walk-in closet. We would be a small, but elite, group of successful handicappers.

My dream is to exact my revenge by taking Doc to dinner and paying for it out of a wallet that will barely notice.

Thanks Doc!
